John Guest International Ltd are prepared to grant permission for you to establish links to their web site provided that you agree to the following simple terms: -

- 1. Your company does not claim to be, claim to represent or hold itself out as either John Guest Limited or any other part of the John Guest Group of Companies. Further, should you show any of our registered trade marks on any page of your web site, then you will include the following statement in a prominent position on every such page:

The brands "Speedfit" and "John Guest" are the registered trademarks of John Guest International Limited. We are not a member of the John Guest group of companies.

- 2. Should your site display any technical data in relation to any of our products, you will ensure that such data is correct (i.e. the same as the data in our own current guides and literature) at the time it is posted on your site. Furthermore, all such data must be updated regularly (at least once per month) from our most current literature or our web site. All such data displayed should be accompanied by a clear message stating that:

The definitive specification of John Guest products can be obtained from the John Guest group web site at <http://www.johnguest.com>. John Guest reserves the right to update its technical specifications from time to time.

- 3. Please note that, wherever you include a hypertext link to the John Guest web site, such a link must be to the homepage (<http://www.johnguest.com>) only and not to any other page of our site. We do not consent to 'deep-linking' to other pages within our site.
- 4. We reserve the right to withdraw the permission granted by this agreement forthwith by informing you of the withdrawal in writing, as we shall in our absolute discretion deem fit.

We believe that these terms are unobjectionable, but please countersign this document below and return it to us in order to confirm your agreement.
